PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES

TEACHING:

Prior to 1975 - Prior to coming to the University of Pittsburgh Dr. Goldstein taught psychology at the University of Kansas, and provided lectures and supervision to psychology interns and psychiatric residents at the Topeka VA Hospital. Was a faculty member of the Menninger Foundation. At the University of Kansas, between 1962 and 1975 taught general psychology, abnormal psychology, social psychology and seminars in neuropsychology. This teaching was done at undergraduate and graduate levels.

University of Pittsburgh

1. Course Title: Conference in Clinical Neuropsychology
 Description: Basic level course in clinical neuropsychology.
 Years: 1975
 # of times: 1
 To whom: All levels of professional personnel.
 # of students : 270
 Where: WPIC

2. Course Title: Conference in Clinical Neuropsychology (Child and Adolescence)
 Description: Clinical Neuropsychology course for child psychiatry and psychology practitioners.
 Years: 1982
 # of times: 1
 To Whom: Professional personnel in child and adolescence psychology/psychiatry

of students: 200 approximately
Where: WPIC

3. Course Title: Lecture series: Neuropsychology of alcoholism
Description: Advanced material presented on the etiology of alcoholism and its psychiatric consequences.
Years taught: 1979
of times: 4
To whom: Neurology and psychiatry residents
of students: 15 - 20 approximately
Where: WPIC

4. Course title: Case Conference in Neuropsychology
Description: Case study method employed to review and evaluate patients suffering from neurobehavioral disorders.
Years: 1984 - present
of times: Weekly
To whom: Staff members of neuropsychology clinic, faculty, psychiatric residents, interns
of students: 5 - 8
Where: WPIC

5. Course Title: Rehabilitation Research Seminar Series of times: 12 lectures, 1991-1992
To Whom: Post-Doctoral Fellows
of students 3-5
Where: WPIC

Additional teaching activities:

1979 - present: Has presented numerous lectures for the Office of Education and Regional Programming

1975 - present: Has chaired seven thesis committees in the Department of Psychology and the School of Education

1975 - present: Supervision of psychology interns at Highland Drive Va Medical Center and in the Clinical Psychology Internship Program at WPIC

Along with Drs. Michael McCue and Lynda Katz, was awarded a training grant from the rehabilitation Services Administration to conduct workshops for psychologists in adult learning disability. The first of these workshops was held at WPIC in 1986, and had about 40 attendees. Subsequent workshops have been held in Denver, Dallas and San Francisco.

Provides individual supervision to Dr. Michael McCue and Dr. James Becker in order to assist them in meeting eligibility requirements for receiving diplomas from the American Board of Professional Psychology.

July, 1988: Seminar for Post-Doctoral Trainees in Rehabilitation Research.

2005-present provides instruction and supervision in data analysis and neuropsychology to MIRECC staff and investigators
